

It's a case for
Detective Sergeant Factual

"The facts ma'am, just the facts"

Mr. Dory unlocked his jewelry store and went to his safe. It was not locked. Mr. Dory removed a tray that contained only expensive rings, and noticed one of them was missing. He called Sgt. Factual who came in his patrol car. Sgt. Factual asked Mr. Dory what happened. "I think my store was robbed," said Mr. Dory. Upon hearing the story Sgt. Factual asked Mr. Dory who else had keys to his store. "No one," he answered.

- |  |   |   |   |
|--|---|---|---|
| 1. This store was Mr. Dory's jewelry store?              | T | F | ? |
| 2. The store was in a mall.                              | T | F | ? |
| 3. A ring was missing                                    | T | F | ? |
| 4. It was a cheap ring                                   | T | F | ? |
| 5. Mr. Dory was robbed                                   | T | F | ? |
| 6. Sgt. Factual arrived by bus                           | T | F | ? |
| 7. Mr. Dory thought he had the only key                  | T | F | ? |
| 8. Sgt. Factual wondered why the safe was left unlocked. | T | F | ? |

